MANUFACTURING & INDUSTRIAL

Are you looking for a Manufacturing and Industrial lawyer in Singapore? Gravitas Law LLC provides legal counsel and litigation services to manufacturing and industrial clients in Singapore, helping them plan for success, avoid legal pitfalls, and solve problems innovatively and cost-effectively.

We are an outside general counsel to manufacturers and suppliers from a range of industry sectors in Singapore, helping them achieve their business objectives in a challenging and competitive business environment through reliable, practical and cost-effective legal advice.

We help our manufacturing and industrial clients draft and review contracts as well as joint venture, supplier, reseller, distribution, franchise, shareholder and Research and Development (R&D) agreements. We also negotiate on behalf of our clients and resolve disputes as well as establish, protect and enforce their Intellectual Property (IP) rights.

Our Singapore manufacturing lawyer represents and advises manufacturers and suppliers in various matters such as copyright, trademark, data protection, debt recovery, product liability, fraud, partnership or shareholder disputes and litigation, among others.

We advise and counsel manufacturing companies in Singapore regarding risk management, dispute prevention and litigation avoidance. However, if you need to litigate, you can expect zealous representation from our Manufacturing lawyers.

If your manufacturing business is involved in a lawsuit in Singapore, we will help you identify the issues and understand your options.

With our 20 years of experience in civil litigation and business and commercial law experience, Gravitas Law LLC can guarantee you peace of mind and help you protect and grow your manufacturing business in Singapore.
